

BRIVO COVID & FACILITY SAFETY FEATURES

Extending access control to protect employees as you reopen your facilities. Without having to make investments in new technology, many of the safety features are already available to Brivo customers.

Occupancy Tracking

Know how many people are on site to manage limits and regulations

Occupancy Tracking for Brivo Access allows customers to set occupancy limits by site based on policy requirements and track the number of people inside a facility. Brivo Occupancy Tracking also gives businesses visibility into current occupancy to make access decisions.

Occupancy Tracking is included with Brivo Access Professional and Enterprise Editions.

Vaccine Validation

Enforce access policies with vaccine and testing status

Companies can evaluate building access policies or specific areas of a facility based on vaccination or negative test results. Upon confirming that an employee's status meets company policy criteria, they can be assigned to specific groups with appropriate access permissions.

Vaccine Validation is available to all Brivo customers via personnel control.

User Contact Reporting

Generate access reports to track exposure

Brivo Contact Reporting provides customers the ability to generate reports identifying people who occupied the same space and may have been in contact with an infected individual. Businesses can pull a report that shows results based on site and date range of when the infected individual entered the property.

User contact reporting is available to all Brivo customers.

Mobile Self-Screening

Identify users with COVID symptoms before they enter your site

Use Brivo Mobile Pass to identify users with COVID exposure or symptoms before they enter your facility. Businesses now have the ability to enable self-screening for their employees across all sites. Employees will be prompted to answer your pre-screen question and will only be able to unlock a door after completing the questionnaire.

Self screening is available to all Brivo Mobile Pass customers.

Visitor Screening & Reporting

Screen all visitors for COVID symptoms before granting access

Brivo Visitor Management includes Brivo Visitor Reporting, which enables customers to create their own interactive pre-screening process. Organizations can now create a customized questionnaire regarding visitor health or recent COVID exposure during the visitor check-in process. Visitor reporting also allows staff to generate reports about visitors and can be used to identify individuals for contact tracing should someone in the office test positive.

Visitor screening and reporting is available for all Brivo Visitor users.

Personnel Control

Suspend access automatically until screening checkpoint is cleared

Brivo Personnel Control provides the capability to immediately suspend staff access automatically until the employee goes through a screening check-point. Employee access can be restricted based on reducing possible exposure to other colleagues.

Personnel Control is available to all Brivo customers.
